Sunday River staff cutbacks reflect an industry-wide need to lower fixed costs

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The National Ski Areas Association's 2009 Trade Show and Convention, a four-day affair held in Marco Island, Fla., ended Saturday.

One of the highlights, according to the online Industry Report for the mountain resort industry, was a roundtable discussion at which five ski resort CEO's discussed the hard economic times and the lessons they have learned from the 2008-09 season.

One of the participants was Stephen Kircher, president of eastern operations for Boyne Resorts, which owns, among other properties, Sunday River and Sugarloaf, both destination resorts.

Kircher said the company's drive-to-resorts actually fared relatively well last season, but destination resorts "were hurt," and overall Boyne had a 7.5 percent (or $16-18 million) drop in revenue.

"One thing we've learned," he told the industry audience, "we maybe need to react a little quicker."

Quick action here

On Monday, less than 48 hours after the convention concluded, 32 Sunday River employees learned they were

SAD44 voters asked to transfer $500,000 into Capital Reserve

By ALISON ALOISIO

At the June 3 district budget meeting, SAD44 voters will be asked to approve transferring up to $500,000 from unexpended balances into the district's Capital Reserve Account.

This is the third year voters have been asked to transfer such funds to Capital Reserve.

There are no plans to spend the money in the next year, said Supt. Dave Murphy.

But, he said, "the Facilities and Finance committees have been focusing on future projects that would address energy conservation at Telstar — in the form of window replacement, insulation etc. and are hopeful that they may have something ready for voter consideration in time for the November referendum."

The transfer is requested in a budget year that, despite significant cuts by the School Board, will bring increases in school taxes to several district towns.

"People might say, 'Why not apply [the investment funds] to the budget?'" Murphy told the board last week.

He said there are several reasons to hold the money over for the following fiscal year.

Rule One: Eyes on the ball

Area children ages 7 through 12 have been gathering on Monday evenings at Gould Academy's lacrosse field to learn the fundamentals of the game. The Bethel Area Youth Lacrosse program continues through June 15. Here, Hope Dole of West Bethel fights for control of the ball against another player.

Food-pack program bridges gap for families

By ALISON ALOISIO

A grassroots program, "Three Day Supply," has quietly started providing short-term food for area families in crisis.

"This provides a bridge for people going into crisis, for people who never thought they'd be where they are," said volunteer Jeanie Waite. "People who reach the edge in this community do not always have the resources to feed themselves in the short term."

The concept is simple: For about $70, volunteers fill a box with non-perishable foods that will feed a family for three days. That's the typical time needed to complete paperwork to qualify them for food stamps or other aid.

"This is not intended to supplant the Food Pantry," which, Waite said, can provide food for a longer period.

The program has been in the planning stages for the past year. Waite got the idea while visiting relatives in North Carolina and hearing about a similar program there.

Distribution of food got underway in April. Based on estimates provided by the Food Pantry, the average need is about four families a month.

"Many are displaced or single-parent families," Waite said.

Suspect in W. Bethel murder pleads innocent; trial in September

M. DIRK LANGEVELD, Sun Media Wire

A 23-year-old man pleaded not guilty Friday to killing his former employer in Bethel last winter.

Agostino J. Samson, of River Road in Windham and formerly of Bethel, appeared before Justice John Nivison in Oxford County Superior Court.

He is charged in the death of Scott Libby, 25, of Raymond, who was found beaten and strangled to death in a car that had been parked on the railroad tracks in Bethel.

Defense attorney Maurice Porter has been appointed to represent Samson. Nivison granted Porter's request for a speedy trial and scheduled the case for presentation to a jury in September. He also set a 60-day deadline for motions to be filed in the case.

Libby was found dead in his car at about 2:45 a.m. Feb. 20. The vehicle had been driven 200 feet down the railroad tracks from the Barker Road crossing and was struck from behind by a westbound freight train.

According to an affidavit by Detective Herbert Leighton of the Maine State Police, investigators believe that Libby had been strangled by a belt and beaten with a cast-iron frying pan before being placed in the car. Libby's pockets had been turned out, and no money was found on his person or

'SKATE ON, LADS'

To the Editor:

To you and through you to your gentle readers: It was indeed a pleasure to open the May 14 paper and see that Col. Bennett, the Bard of Mayville, is back in the saddle or rather behind the typing instrument!

Then, my pleasure was dashed when I read "Start By Taking Care of the Park we've Got." Benjamin Franklin once remarked that a Nation is judged by how it treats its dead. I concur but further would suggest that a community is also judged by how it treats its young adults and aged citizens!

I am certain as Memorial Day comes around we will all see how Bethel and the surrounding communities and hamlets treat their respected dead!

What distressed me most about the Letter to the Editor, was the pejorative and condescending tone. In the "old" days when we knew each other in this community and we knew who the parents of children were had such behavior as was implied by Mr. Greenberg happened there would have been a phone call or a visit to a parent or grandparent to make a helpful suggestion regarding the skatepark and a child's responsibility/behavior. Or most certainly in the 1960/'70s, a person seeing such activity would have stopped and spoken to the children themselves in a quiet, gentle manner suggesting that for the sake of safety other behavior would be appreciated.

I suppose that Mr. Greenberg did not know the youth, his or her parents, and did not take the time to introduce himself and make positive suggestions as to better behavior. ??? Maybe the old-fashioned approach would have served his cause better.

All too often these days I hear around the village that people do not like this or that about Bethel or they feel that they have come to save us "poor natives" from ourselves.

Constructive change is always good and a community can always improve with progressive positive change carefully thought out and in the best interest of "all."

To that end I have decided to start a small campaign. The Chamber of Commerce so nicely gives directions and invites everyone to Bethel, to stay, spend their money and to love us. I in juxtaposition will gladly give anyone that comes and does not like our children or aged citizens, the other map, the one that shows you how to get out of town free.

Lastly, there have been many nice people move into this town in the last 30/40 years who like it here and like us the way we are. They learned who our ancestors, parents and even who are children are. They have to joined us and support us in mutual endeavors to the greater good. They love us for who we truly are. They know who they are and that this letter is not directed at them. But for the rest of you, stop me on the street; I am sure to have the "Get out of Town Free Maps" with me on any given day. I should be most happy to point you to a new more rewarding life elsewhere!

Skate on, Lads!

BEWARE THE PLANT POACHERS

To the Editor:

There is such a thing in Bethel as a Plant Poacher. They go on land that you are paying taxes on to the town of Bethel and dig up plants that you cherish. They leave holes in your land and garden.

The land I own and pay taxes on is located on Route 2 and has been in my family for over 60 years. I am extremely upset that something like this could happen in Bethel, my hometown.

Maybe this person or these persons thought the land was abandoned, but I am working to refurbish it as best I can. I don't think I need help from land poachers. No Trespassing signs do not add to the beauty of Bethel.

Plants should be given the dignity of living where their owners plant them. The plants stolen this week were planted by my father, Jim. They were starting to bloom and plants do not transplant well when they are blossoming. You could have contacted me and asked to buy them from me when the time was right for transplanting.

Again, Bethel residents, Beware of Plant Poachers.

ATHLETIC BOOSTERS: 'THANKS'

To the Editor:

To all of the volunteers: The words "Thank You" cannot start to express the appreciation and gratitude for all of the hard work displayed on Saturday at the first annual Contractors Day at Telstar. The Telstar Athletic Boosters would like to acknowledge the talents of all of the construction workers, landscapers, painters, parents, students, and coaches for donating their time on Saturday to truly make a positive change on our campus. It is amazing to see what can be done in one day by a caring community on the behalf of our students and athletes.

A special thank you to Rick and Ron Savage for the idea and organization to help make this all possible and to the Bethel Area Business Association and the Bethel Inn for keeping everyone fed. A job well done to everyone and we are looking forward to next year!

Mark C. Kenney

NO INVOLVEMENT WITH COCAINE, GUNS

To the Editor:

In an effort to clarify some possible confusion, many who attended the trial of Sherwood Jordan would like the public to know that it was made clear several times throughout the seven-day proceedings, including through testimony provided by key witnesses for the prosecution (who had already pled guilty to charges of conspiracy) that Sherwood Jordan had no involvement with cocaine. Also, it was clarified throughout the trial that Sherwood Jordan was not a member of the Iron Horsemen.

Although this trial included three defendants tried simultaneously, it was also pointed out a number of times that Sherwood Jordan did not even know co-defendants Richard Szpyt or Ramon Dellosantos prior to the 2008 arrests made in this case. To clarify another point of possible confusion for anyone who may have seen the recent television reports which displayed guns as part of confiscated evidence, please know that Sherwood Jordan was not involved with firearms.

Situations such as this are complicated and are obviously difficult enough without added confusion.

'FACT OR FICTION' REBUTTAL

To the Editor:

They are at it again with their mud slinging by trying to discredit and disgrace others who oppose them, while trying to make themselves look like they are a gift to the town and can do no wrong.

Stated below are some facts on "conflict of interest." Maine law encompasses four "conflict of interest" situations that can occur in municipal government. 1) Financial conflict of interest. 2) Incompatibility of office. 3) Prohibited appointment or employment. 4) Bias. There are essentially two types of Bias, 1) "Familial" Bias and 2) "Prejudicial" Bias. "Familial" Bias in Maine Statutes, Title 1, ss71 (6) is a disqualification statute which means that when a municipal officer is sitting as a quasi-judicial officer (selectperson) to decide on matters involving a relative of blood or marriage, the related municipal officer should either step down as a quasi-judicial officer or seek written permission from all parties to the proceeding to remain. The "Prejudicial" Bias is when the bias is so strong that the official cannot make an impartial decision, thereby depriving the applicant of his or her right to a fair and objective decision (The above facts were obtained from the MMA manual and Maine Statutes).

At the April 14 selectmen's meeting, Planning Board member Ruby Kulpa was gavelled down by the Select Board chairman (Kevin's wife), when she tried to speak about Kevin, in regards to not meeting the attendance requirements as specified in the Planning Board Ordinance.

At the April 21 selectmen's meeting, the Select Board chairman brought up a subject about Ruby, that had nothing to do with the Planning Board matter, and tried to incorporate them together to discredit and disgrace this woman for only doing her job and following the Planning Board Ordinance and the attendance requirements as so stated within the Ordinance.

At the May 5 selectmen's meeting, Kevin was put on the agenda (at the last minute by the Select Board chairman without notice to anyone else) and allowed to speak in rebuttal for over 20 minutes. He even made a threatening remark about calling his attorney(s) to one member of the Board of Selectmen (heaven forbid that he be gavelled down).

Susan Merrow, the Select Board chairman (Kevin's wife), did not step down or seek written approval from anybody when discussing what action should be taken in regards to him not meeting the Andover Planning Board Ordinance attendance requirements, as set forth and so stated within the ordinance. These are clear violations of both "Bias" Conflict of Interest Laws, (among other issues such as behavior unbecoming of a public official) and all prior proceedings and decisions must be dismissed and re-heard before the remaining Select Board without bias.

'HEALTHY EATING ON A BUDGET' THANKS

To the Editor:

We want to take this opportunity to thank the eight local restaurants and caterers who voluntarily participated in our successful "Healthy Eating on a Budget" program presented by the To Your Health Committee of Western Mountains Senior College (WMSC). These restaurants and caterers were among some 21 local eateries contacted last fall as part of the To Your Health Committee's series on de-stressing your life by eating healthy on a budget.

Over 200 healthy meals were specially prepared and served by the participating restaurants and caterers. They also generously shared their recipes and healthy eating tips, which added to the success of the program. These restaurants and caterers included: Café DiCocoa, Sassafras Market, Bethel Inn Millbrook Tavern, Good Food Store, Rooster's Roadhouse, The Victoria Inn, The Sudbury Inn and S. S. Milton.

There was limited seating at all these healthy eating evenings, and we realize that not everyone who wanted to attend was able to make a reservation. With this in mind, the To Your Health Committee, with the help of the Continuing Education Department of SAD44, is preparing a booklet of all recipes and healthy tips. These booklets will be given to WMSC members and made available to anyone else interested at a nominal fee. Watch for details in the WMSC Column of the Bethel Citizen.

To Your Health is offered as a community service to bring health concerns of interest to the community. It is presented by WMSC with the collaboration of Bethel Family Health Center, SAD44/Continuing Education and Wayne DuPlessis, counselor.

THANKS, FOODLINER

To the Editor:

The Rotary Club of Bethel recently approved and purchased four Three-Day Supply Food Packs for the Bethel Food Pantry. These Food Packs are a current project of the "Friends of the Food Pantry." In these difficult economic times on many occasions area families can run in to hard times in which they need food supplies while waiting to get on assistance programs. This is where these food packs come into good service.

The Rotary Club recently approached Colleen McCabe, manager of the Bethel Foodliner, and asked if she had the products in stock on the Food Pack List. To our great surprise and gratitude, not only did she help us with finding the listed food items for Rotary's four food packs, but the next day when Rotarians arrived to shop the Bethel Foodliner staff had already compiled four food packs on their own to be donated. The owners of the Bethel Foodliner, Carl and Pat Glidden, having heard of our charitable efforts immediately stepped in with their own donation of these food products for the food packs.

It never ceases to amaze me how quickly our area businesses step in and partner with Rotary for charitable endeavors on a moment's notice. Kudos to you Pat, Carl, Colleen and the Bethel Foodliner for your generosity to the community. Thank you.

Mike Steven
President, Rotary Club of Bethel

PROM THANKS

To the Editor:

Thank you to all who helped make the Telstar prom a wonderful evening.

The Telstar High School junior class traditionally fundraises for and organizes the junior/senior prom held in May every year. This year's prom was held on May 9 at the beautiful Ski Estate House on Powder Ridge in Newry.

Back in January some of the kids in the junior class got the idea that they would like to contact the owners of Ski Estate to see if it would be possible to hold their prom there. Sophia Bilinsky willingly agreed and generously donated her brand new home for our use. She really took a leap of faith in letting us carry out such an event on her property. We cannot thank her enough for such a kind act. It allowed for a very elegant evening.

We would also like to thank Joel Kane, our caterer, for providing a delicious dinner and chocolate fountain. Asher Wilson and Jeremy Putnam, our D.J.'s, kept everyone dancing to great music all night. Francis and Barbara Dumont gave us many hours of help in setting up for and breaking down from the prom. They helped us move furniture and transport tables and chairs to and from the house. Thank you to Jim Largess and Sunday River for the use of tables and chairs. Thank you to Roger Beaudoin of the Matterhorn Ski Bar for the use of their parking lot. Thank you also to the We Party store for the donation of balloons and the last minute help you gave us in filling the balloons. Thank you to Ross Swan for designing the glass mugs we gave as gifts to the seniors. Thank you to the many parents, teachers, bus drivers and junior class students who gave of their time to make this event special. We could not have pulled off this event without your energy, ideas, patience and muscles. Lastly, thank you to the SAD44 administration for allowing the junior class to run with this idea. There were certainly many reasons to say no to this location, but Dan Hart and Ron Deegan worked hard to make it happen. They worked with us to provide safe transportation to and from the prom. It is great to work in this community. We feel very privileged to have the support we do.

Bikers, Albany man found guilty

PORTLAND—The ex-president of the Maine chapter of the Iron Horsemen Motorcycle Club and two co-defendants have been found guilty of running a major cocaine and marijuana distribution ring between Massachusetts and Maine. A federal jury in Portland deliberated for seven hours over two days before returning its verdict Wednesday against Richard Szypt and Ramon Dellosantos and Sherwood Jordan of Albany Township. Szypt, of Haverhill, Mass., kept a home in Old Orchard Beach, Maine, and was chapter president from 2005 until the indictments were handed up last spring. The Portland Press Herald said Szypt and Jordan face between 10 years and life. More than a dozen other defendants had pleaded guilty to taking part in the drug conspiracy. Some testified for the prosecution during the six-day trial. (See letter, facing page.)

SAU37 likely to dodge consolidation

AUGUSTA—School Union 37, serving Rangeley and surrounding communities, most likely will be exempted from the laws requiring school administration consolidation, according to state Rep. Jarrod Crockett, who cosponsored the enabling legislation. On May 4, the Legislature's Education and Cultural Affairs Committee voted unanimously for a bill that exempts three school systems from the consolidation mandate. The other two are School Administrative District 12, serving the towns of Jackman and Moose River; and School Union 60, which serves Greenville and surrounding towns. Bills that emerge from committee with unanimous support almost always pass the full House and Senate, according to Rep. Crockett (R-Bethel). This legislation, LD 467, carries an emergency preamble, which means it will take effect when signed by the governor. Non-emergency bills that become law do not go into effect until 90 days after the Legislature adjourns. The Education Committee released its report on May 15. The three school systems exempted from the regionalization requirements are considered geographically isolated and impractical to consolidate. That designation exempts them from the requirement to form regional school units with a student population of at least 1,200. The Rangeley system will have fewer than 200 students. Under the terms of the legislation, the Commissioner of Education is required to treat the three systems in a manner similar to the treatment of coastal islands. There will be no penalties or other legal complications, according to Rep. Crockett, a first-term legislator and an attorney. "This is a great development for Rangeley," he said. "One plan would have consolidated Bethel and Rangeley schools into one school system; but that system would have about 1,100 students, still short of the 1,200-student minimum. And the schools would be nearly 70 miles apart, creating complications for school board members. "I was glad to be part of the process to remove Rangeley from the consolidation requirements," he added. "I think this will be in the best interests of the entire Rangeley school community." School Union 37 serves the towns of Rangeley, Dallas Plantation, Lincoln Plantation, Magalloway Plantation, Rangeley Plantation and Sandy River Plantation.

Wildlife viewing platform OK'd

BETHEL—A Bethel resident got the go-ahead from planners last week to construct a wildlife viewing platform within 250 feet of the Androscoggin River. The first-of-its-kind project for Bethel planners to review was proposed by Patrick Stanton. Stanton's project involves building a small screened-in naturalist cabin with bird charts and optical equipment for use by neighbors, friends, family and other naturalists. Because it is in the river's floodplain zone, it required a shoreland zoning permit and board review.

Region 9 budget approved

MEXICO—The 50 or so people who turned out for Tuesday's Region 9 budget election overwhelmingly approved a $2 million secondary figure and a $297,000 adult and community education budget. The 10-minute vote was moderated by local lawyer David Austin. The new secondary budget was passed by a vote of 43-5. The adult education budget passed 43-2. Although the approved secondary budget for school year 2009-10 is 5 percent higher than the current year's, the 16 member towns will be liable for only about $30,000 more because $80,000 will be carried over from the current year. Of the $297,000 adult education budget, member towns will be responsible for just over $191,000. The remaining funds will come from a variety of other sources including grants and student fees. Each member district and town will pay its share of the two budgets through their respective school taxes. Director Brenda Gammon said the rise in the operational budgets is caused by a doubling in electricity costs, 3 percent salary hikes for all employees, and the launching of a new semester-long program that aims to introduce sophomores to the various vocational programs offered at the school. The Region 9 School of Applied Technology cooperative board unanimously adopted the two budget figures at a meeting that followed the election.

NEWRY—A public hearing on proposed changes to the Unified Review Development Ordinance will take place Monday, June 1, at 5 p.m. at the Town Office.

New Region 9 agreement planned

MEXICO—The Region 9 board on Tuesday tentatively adopted a new cooperative agreement pending approval by the vocational school's lawyer. The new agreement, which outlines cost sharing and board representation for each sending district or unaffiliated town, was changed to meet the re-configuration of the newly created Western Foothills School District, also known as Regional School Unit 10. Prior to the Foothills creation, the 11 board members came from SAD43, SAD21, SAD44, and the unaffiliated towns of Gilead, Hanover and Upton. The size of the board will remain the same, at 11. SAD44, Bethel, will retain its two members, and Gilead and Upton will keep one representative each. SAD43, SAD 21 and Hanover are members of the new Foothills regional district. They will retain a total of seven members, but no more than two of the seven may serve from the same town at the same time. Votes are weighted for each sending member, with Gilead at 7, Upton with 3, Foothills school district at a total of 728, and SAD44 with a total of 244. A third district that joined with the Foothills district, SAD89 in Buckfield, sends its vocational students to Region 11 at Oxford Hills Comprehensive High School in Norway/Paris. Each of Region 9's member districts must now approve the cooperative agreement before it becomes policy. The board is expected to act on final approval at next month's meeting. Board Chairman Norman Clanton said all approvals must be in place prior to the end of June when the Foothills district becomes official and SAD 43 and SAD 21 no longer exist separately.

year: federal stimulus funds provided this year are not expected in FY'11; there will be fewer district funds available to carry forward; and there will be additional reductions in state aid because of increasing property valuations.

If the money transfer is approved this year, there will be little money left in unexpended balances, he said.

History of funds

About 15 years ago, the district established what SAD44 officials described at the time as a "cash reserve investment account."

Annually, deposits from unanticipated revenues and unexpended balances were made and the accrued interest was reinvested each year.

The availability of the funds was only recognized in 2007, according to Murphy.

By then, the funds totaled approximately $1.5 million.

Murphy said at the time that the extra funds had likely resulted from conservative projections each year of estimated revenue for the upcoming year.

Sources of revenue include balance carried forward, tuition receipts, transportation services and other miscellaneous revenue, as well as state subsidy and additional local funds.

But Maine law requires that unallocated balances in excess of 3 percent of the previous year's school budget be disbursed to reduce the state and local share of education over a period not to exceed three years.

So in 2007 a plan to spend down the fund was drawn up.

And with the school consolidation law on the horizon at that time, Murphy said, the district was advised to establish the Capital Reserve Account to protect the money in case of a possible merger with another school system.

Voters then approved moving $700,000 of available balances into the Capital Reserve account.

In 2008, another $500,000 was approved. In that year voters also approved the expenditure of $311,140.80 of that total for two projects, the Telstar entryway and Telstar sprinkler system.

Ski Cuts

being laid off, either temporarily or indefinitely.

The affected employees represent roughly 10 percent of Sunday River's full-time, year-round workforce, but many of their coworkers also got some unwelcome news.

Senior managers had their salaries reduced and many staff had their hours cut back.

These cost-cutting moves followed an announcement earlier in the year that there would be two resort-wide "shutdown weeks" this year, during which employees either have to take vacation days or go unpaid.

Nick Lambert, Sunday River's marketing manager, described the actions as Sunday River's version of cost-cutting efforts that are not only "Boyerne-wide," but industry-wide.

Two of Boyerne's largest competitors, Intrawest and Vail, had already announced significant staffing cutbacks.

"The whole industry is down a bit and looking at these kinds of measures," Lambert said.

Julie Ard, Boyerne's director of communications, confirmed Lambert's assessment.

"The cutbacks at Sunday River are part of company-wide efforts resulting from review of our cost structures. In light of decreased revenues and the need to realistically project the next 12-18 months' sales as flat, at best, we must make adjustments," Ard told The Citizen.

According to preliminary figures released at last week's NSAA event, there were 57.1 million skier visits nationwide this season, down 5.5 percent from the previous season's 60.5 million.

But the Northeast was down only 2 percent.

Greg Sweetser of the Ski Maine Association said the region's numbers could have been even stronger if early snow had continued through the season. "In March and April it never snowed, and we didn't quite make our numbers for those months," he said.

Downturn flushes real estate 'down the sewer' Kircher, according to Industry Report, remains optimistic, advising his fellow roundtable participants to: "Plan for this to be the new baseline. When it does turn around, I think in two years — and I think our customers are very resilient, they're going to come back very quickly."

But come back for the snow and the skiing, not the upscale real estate.

"The 12,000 to 24,000-square-foot home is a thing of the past," Kircher said. "The concept of real estate defining a resort is gone, probably for our lifetime."

Bill Jensen certainly agreed.

Jensen, a former vice president for marketing and sales at Sunday River, is now CEO of Intrawest.

"The old Intrawest focus had been real estate for 20 years," he said. "That went into the toilet, flushed down the sewer and into some ocean, so that business opportunity is truly dead right now. It caused us to focus on where we do generate our revenue, where we were in a battle to survive."

SHORT-TERM FOOD AID—The newly-launched Three Day Supply program provides a box of non-perishable food to families suddenly finding themselves in a crisis situation. Area individuals and groups are supporting the effort. The Bethel Foodliner and the Rotary Club of Bethel each recently donated four boxes of food. Pictured with Rotary president Mike Steven (center) are the Foodliner's Colleen McCabe and Carl Glidden.

The menu/food supply is simple, familiar and storable for up to a year.

Examples include elbow macaroni, raisins, apple sauce, canned milk, tuna, baked beans, soup, jelly, popcorn, cocoa and cookies.

"It's user friendly. Even a child could put together a meal," said Waite.

And, she said, the simple comfort foods of hot chocolate and cookies will soothe a child while mom deals with the challenges facing the family.

News of the program has spread by word of mouth, and a variety of local people and organizations have stepped up to donate food.

TDS currently has enough food for about two months. Anyone interested in helping out in the future is asked to call 824-2780.

Murder

in his wallet.

Samson formerly worked as a cook at the Matterhorn Ski Bar in Newry and was staying at the Bethel Hostel, less than a quarter-mile away from the railroad crossing. Samson told police that he had worked at Libby's landscaping business the previous summer, and that Libby traveled to Bethel on the evening of Feb. 19 to collect $400 he had loaned Samson and return a watch and bracelet he had taken as collateral.

Samson initially said the transfer occurred without incident, but later said he punched Libby in the face twice after Libby made sexual advances toward him. Samson said Libby left after the incident.

Porter filed several motions prior to Samson's indictment last month, seeking funds for a private investigator, the preservation of evidence and a record of the grand jury proceedings. Justice Andrew Horton approved these motions.

Porter also argued that investigators gave detailed information to potential witnesses in the case that may have affected their memory of events. He said Capt. Ernest Martin, administrator of the Oxford County Jail, had given inaccurate statements to reporters on Samson's behavior at the jail.

Samson was transferred to the Androscoggin County Jail in March after being briefly hospitalized following a fight. Martin said at that time that Samson had been involved in two additional fights.

Martin said Thursday that Samson was involved in two physical fights at the jail as well as a verbal confrontation that nearly escalated to blows.

"He wanted us to believe that he was a victim," Martin said. "It sounded like there was a consensus of opinion that Samson was the instigator. He would say things to deliberately provoke people."

Libby was a graduate of Windham High School and Bentley College in Waltham, Mass. He owned a greenhouse and landscaping company, and also worked as an accountant and bartender.

A memorial site to Libby recently praised the Maine Legislature's decision to legalize same-sex marriage, saying, "For the first time in his life, Scott would have been able to contemplate the possibility of someday getting married in his home state."

Assistant Attorney General Andrew Benson said he did not believe Libby's sexuality was the reason he was murdered.

"I'm always reluctant to discuss the facts of a given case," Benson said Thursday. "However, I have no reason to believe that Scott Libby's sexual orientation played any role in this case."

ed to uphold excellence in the field of wedding photojournalism.

Images submitted to the contests are evaluated by a team of judges, often comprised of Pulitzer Prize winners, picture editors from magazines including Life, National Geographic and The New York Times Magazine and working photojournalists.

Earlier this year Kehn placed third in the "Getting Ready" category, fifth in the "Details Found" (details not set up by the photographer) category and ninth in the "Ring Details" category in the international contests. The prize-winning images can be viewed at www.wpjia.com.

Her selection as a top 100 photographer was based on the contests.

Kehn has been a working photojournalist in New England for ten years, working as a staffer at The Citizen, a daily newspaper in Laconia, N.H. and as a freelancer for the Associated Press, the Lewiston Sun Journal and the Bethel Citizen.

She has been photographing weddings full time for the last four years.

"I love shooting weddings. It is a fun assignment where I get to meet really amazing people having the time of their lives," said Kehn.

She holds a bachelor's of fine arts degree from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.

"FOUND DETAILS"—This fifth-place photo (right) by Andree Kehn of Greenwood helped win her recognition as a Top 100 wedding photojournalist by the Wedding Photojournalist Association. "This couple got married on the coast of Maine, and it happened to be a blustery cold day," said Kehn. "They decided to get married outside despite the weather. The bride walked out on the rocks after the ceremony and took her shoes off since the rocks were slippery. 'I loved the juxtaposition of her bare toes and her grooms' shoes.'"

From the Bethel Police Log:

Tuesday, May 19

At 4:16 p.m. Officer Jeff Campbell responded to the West Bethel Road for a two-vehicle property damage accident.

Monday, May 18

At 1:09 a.m. Officer Michael Grenier responded to Mason Street for a report of harassment. Several subjects were warned.

Sunday, May 17

(Time not available) Officer Bill Britting observed a vehicle traveling 72 mph in a 55 mph zone on Route 2. Jason P. Smith, 30, was arrested for OUI.

At 11:24 p.m. Officer Rusty Daley responded to the Grover Hill Road for a report that a driver had almost struck several pedestrians. The driver was located and warned.

At 5:40 p.m. Officer Bill Britting received a report of erratic operation on Route 26. The vehicle was stopped and the driver checked, with no problems found.

Thursday, May 14

At 6:46 p.m. Officer Michael Grenier responded to Philbrook Street for a 911 hangup call. No one was at the residence.

Wednesday, May 13

At 11 p.m. Officers Jason Goff and Jeff Campbell responded to the North Road for a report of a subject operating under the influence. The vehicle was gone on arrival.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log. It lists cases reported in the log of adults being arrested or issued a summons in the 10 days prior to the newspaper's publication, but does not include all reports of police activity, such as routine speeding tickets and other civil violations. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies.

State Police report highlights:

(Bethel region)

Trooper Casey stopped a vehicle in Andover and determined the operator was under the influence. He was arrested and subsequently charged with 2nd Offense OUI and Operating without a License in Violation of Condition or Restriction.

Tr Huckins interviewed a witness from a residential burglary in Woodstock. The witness agreed to take Tr. Huckins to the location of a stolen Dell computer. However, one of the suspects had removed the Laptop already. Another interview will be scheduled with an incarcerated suspect.

Tr Huckins investigated an assault at an American Legion Hall in Greenwood. The dispute was between a 70-year-old man and a 23-year-old female. They were arguing about the Legion's financial records when the 23-year-old female hit the man in the head. The female was summonsed for assault.

Bethel

by Donald G. Bennett

The top news of the week, maybe the year, maybe the decade was the "Fiddler on the Roof" production at Telstar High School. It was unquestionably a most ambitious, entertaining and professionally accomplished performance. And that goes for the orchestra, the cast, the stage managers, the lighting crew, the producers and directors.

It was extremely smoothly delivered with no dead spots in the entire two and one-half hours. Was it the perfect cast for the story or the perfect story for the cast? Thirty-one students were on stage. The pit orchestra had 10 very talented, hard-working musicians including the music director, Jennifer Bennett. Twelve students, parents and friends held important jobs and in the production staff list. Producer and theatrical director Tom Coolidge should be supremely proud of his students' work, his own organizing and direction and the great boost he has given to Telstar's image.

By my estimate during the three nights that the show was presented, nearly 900 people attended. The adults who made up most of the night audiences must have gone away much impressed with this student production — a pile of credit to the Telstar student body. Voices, acting, stage scenery and slick scene changes made the show admirable.

A.J. Hebert's performance as Tevye, the father, should go down in history as unforgettable. Russian and wedding dancers Joel and Jeremy Putnam were too good not to receive special mention. Dylan Coolidge looked and acted like a real 1905 era Rabbi. Last but not least — a star with no speaking part — the wheelbarrow has got to be included in the list of star performances.

A Mayville News reporter very much enjoyed the Thursday night's special dinner theater at The Victoria Inn. There were two main events: a dinner and a performance of a comedy, "Good Help Is So Hard to Murder," with an all-female cast. The Victoria offered a special menu beginning with a Victoria House salad, and then a choice of three entrees: pork tenderloin with rhubarb compote, pan roasted salmon with orange chive butter and chicken piccata with a white wine lemon caper sauce. Dessert was maple apple crisp. About two dozen came to enjoy the first showing of this play in town and the first time the Bethel Community Players had performed a dinner theater event at The Victoria. Dessert and coffee were served during the play's intermission.

Dinner theater shows have a definite appeal due to a tendency of audience and players to merge into one group. Interaction is a key feature — lots of laughter from audience and actors, actresses.

At Bethel Outdoor Adventure the Parsons family was hard at work, at least quite busy, getting ready for the summer season. Sons Charles and Jonathan are home from college.

The campground is being put into shape and the canoes and kayaks put in position for river boating. June 6 is National Trails Day and the Parsons will be hosting center for many of the day's events. Fathers' Day in June will be the date for an Androscoggin River canoe race.

Last week Jeff, Seabury Lyon and Jim Clannin were setting up the gem and mineral dig and sluice tent attraction that was first opened last summer. Jim Clannin from Albany is the geologist in charge. This spot is a hands-on introduction to mining that starts with a dig into a pile of mined gravel, rock and minerals from Mt. Mica.

Once a visitor has his or her bucket of mine products in hand they go to the sluicing area to see what gems and minerals can be found and separated from their dig. There is an extensive mineral display arranged by the sluice pump and trough. Also as part of the display are large chunks of rock which hold bands of pebble-sized tourmalines.

Last winter Jeff and Pattie took advantage of a winter off and went to England to visit friends and family and at the same time took a side trip to France. When they had gotten back to Bethel from England, their daughter, Emily, who lives in Hong Kong had found an unbeatable deal on airline tickets to Hong Kong so off they went again.

Jeff intimated that he was curious to see how well the former crown colony was doing in Chinese hands. They spent a lot of time riding elevators up and down in new high-rise additions to the landscape that have popped up since the governor general packed up and sailed home.

New construction at the site of what is to be the BearHaven Crossing market place went ahead quickly last week. The foundation is in. Rapid Ralph and Sons, Concrete, of South Paris did the forms setting and on Thursday Coleman Concrete of Bethel had three trucks of ready mix going into the forms. Saturday the forms were taken away and we have a new foundation for our kitchen window view.

At Monday night's Board of Selectmen meeting, there was a 4 to 1 vote to approve a two-percent wage increase for town employees in the Fiscal 2010 year. The warrant for SAD44's Budget Referendum was signed. It was noted that the budget represents a 7.4 percent increase over last year, although this may change downward if the state forgives the district for going it alone.

There will be a 7 p.m. hearing on proposed ordinances changes on Wednesday, May 27. Monday night the selectmen reviewed proposed changes in five ordinances: Administration, Building Construction (building in the Historic District), Subdivision of Land (the preliminary plan), Site Plan Review (application procedures), and Signs.

A section of the sign ordinance changes dealing with kiosk dimensions was discussed as being unworkable and temporarily withdrawn. Final determination on performance guarantees for site plan approval will probably remain with the Board of Selectmen but will be available for discussion on the May 27th hearing.

New board/committee members were appointed: Mike Pelletier to the Recreation Board and Gregory Files to the Budget Committee. This year's town report will be printed by Park Street Press, the low bidder.

Steve Seames is moving into the second floor of the former Mt. Abram Lodge I.O.O.F. hall where he will set up an apartment and a personal library that may turn out to be the largest one in town.

Tuesday morning at 10:30, BIG Adventure will be put up to auction. (My news of the auction to follow the closing — auction is to take place at the BIG.)

Several people have commented on our solar panels. Since we got back from Florida, all our hot water has come from the sun or our wood boiler backup (three days).

Tranzon Auction Properties held an auction at the BIG Adventure Center Tuesday, May 19, 2009 to sell the recreational property. By the time the auction started three parties had registered to bid. Other interested parties, neighbors and realtors formed a crowd of about 36 people.

The auctioneer opened the bidding by asking for a bid of $250,000. After a recess, Norway Savings Bank bought the property for $230,000. Digo Management Company of Portland will maintain the property for the bank.

West Bethel

by Lorrie Hoeh

Everything is so beautiful right now, with all the different shades of green, the emerging wildflowers, blossoming trees and shrubs, early flowers blooming, the fresh asparagus and rhubarb, and the sights and sounds of birds, spring peepers, and such, that I'm tempted to say that spring is my favorite season. On the other hand, there are the black flies.

Summer is lovely, because it's warm and sunny, and there are so many flowers in bloom, not to mention all the fresh vegetables and fruits to be had. On the other hand, in recent years it has often gotten way too hot for my comfort, and then there are the mosquitoes and no-see-ums. Kind of hard to keep covered against the bugs when it's 90-plus degrees out.

The bugs are pretty much gone in the fall, and the autumn colors are spectacular. Of course, the children might argue that all it means is going back to school. I love the cool, crisp air, and I don't mind adding a layer of clothing on a chilly morning.

On the downside are all the chores that must be done to put the garden to sleep and get the house in order for the coming Winter! Frosts have led to freezes, and freezes to snow. I still get a thrill from the announcement of "no school, all schools, all day," even though it's been a zillion years since I was a student or teacher or counselor in school. It just seems like a gift of sorts. And though I gripe about shoveling, I really love a fresh snowfall and the chance to don cross-country skis and glide along the trails.

My favorite season? Which ever one is happening right now!

Hummingbirds arrived last week at the Hoehstead, as did at least one indigo bunting. We're still trying to figure out exactly where the phoebes are nesting. There appears to be nest-building activity in at least two places, but they are very secretive birds. Unless we do nothing else for several hours except watch the suspected venues, we have little chance of seeing them until they're actually hatching eggs.

Gail Martin called to report that she and her husband took a walk near their Flat Road camp and saw painted trillium, a first for her. She recalled that as a child, she and her siblings would pick a bouquet of red trillium to give to Mom on Mother's Day. (Let me hasten to say that nowadays picking any trillium blossoms is a no-no.) Her father called them "stinkin' Benjamins." Does anyone out there know from whence came that name?

The Bethel Senior Citizens had lunch last week at the Bethel Alliance Church. They were entertained by a program of music played on the organ and on some antique instruments of unusual design. According to Jane Hosterman, the concert was quite lovely and very interesting.

Speaking of Jane, she will very soon be attending her 65th Simmons College reunion. Wow! What a landmark celebration that will be. You go, girl!

Bethel Community Players finished their dinner theater stint at the Victoria Inn last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. They presented a comedy/mystery entitled, "Good Help Is So Hard to Murder," to a full house all three nights. As one of the players, I can say that we had a wonderful time and hope our audience es did as well. Many thanks to Stacey and Kamill Sahin, proprietors of the Victoria, and to Lynn Arizzi, our director, as well as to Joe Arizzi for sound effects and to Ross Timberlake for lighting, cueing, etc.

This is Memorial Day weekend coming up. On Saturday, the 23rd, the Bethel Historical Society will have its annual "St. Never's Day" yard sale on the lawn at Stan Howe's house on Broad Street. Be sure to stop by and find that certain item without which your life will hereafter be meaningless.

Another date to put on your calendars is Saturday, May 30, when the Bethel Library will have its annual plant sale. This is not to be missed, as it is an opportunity to pick up perennials and some annuals for unbelievably low prices. Gates open promptly at 9 a.m. in the yard between the library and Robinson House.

I'm always hoping to hear from you: dhoeh@megalink.net or 836-3011.

Upton

by Laurie Brown
May 14 News

Jennifer Alldrich will be attending the U of M in Orono in the fall where she will be majoring both in psychology and in music education. Congratulations, Jenn.

Michelle Aron has been accepted at several colleges and hasn't yet determined which one is her first option. Congratulations, Michelle.

Lisa Aron has completed her first year at Thomas College and has enlisted in the U.S. Marines. She'll be leaving for basic training in Parris Island, N.C., the end of this month. Congratulations, Lisa. I thought this was your first choice all along. Now, since you've been to college, and the Marines is still your first choice, I bet you'll enjoy it and excel.

Bob, Pippi, and I enjoyed watching Ben catch both baseball games for CMCC as they vied for and won their league championship. They beat both Hesser College and Vermont Tech. Nice job.

There will be a benefit spaghetti supper for Charlie LaVallee on June 6 from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Ladies Aid Building. Charlie lost everything when his home burned.

Besides the three selectmen, Jim Rector, Ken Gibbons, Bob Brown, Ed Bennett, Bob Dapilto, Paul Thibodeau, Joe Bernier, Brian Knightly, and yours truly attended the Selectmen meeting Wednesday.

Mr. Mercier, anxious to get the meeting underway, wanted to discuss JML's entrance to the landfill without the presence of an attendant, which is against the rules. The town was under a deadline to have the tires and metal removed and JML was willing to remove them.

Each time Norm Mercier reiterated this issue, Rod accepted responsibility for permitting the JML company entrance without an attendant present and he assured his constituents it would not happen again.

Other accusations and innuendoes followed that were based on hearsay and conversations that took place outside selectmen meetings. As an observer and a taxpayer, this part of the meeting made me realize how much more effective the selectmen could be if persons would attend meetings and address their complaints and/or support directly to the board.

At last month's meeting, selectmen unanimously voted to hire Pete Eames to screen the gravel at the landfill, with the assistance of Kenny and the town backhoe, as required by the DEP, after suggestions by Norm Mercier. Selectmen deemed that Pete would be the most cost-efficient way to get the job done.

Wednesday, Mr. Mercier suggested Kenny Gibbons do the screening. After discussion, it was unanimously voted to uphold their original decision.

Selectmen unanimously voted to have Back Street and Lane Hill graveled by early June. On May 28 at 7 p.m. there will be a meeting to discuss and vote on the school budget. Immediately following that meeting, will be a mandated public hearing concerning the Flood Plain Ordinance.

Closed ballot voting on the school budget will take place June 9 at the Town Office. A required Town Meeting will be held June 25 at the schoolhouse for residents to vote on the shoreline zoning articles and the map and the flood plain ordinance.

Selectmen unanimously agreed to hire Bob Brown to put a new roof on the schoolhouse, dismantle the chimney, re-build the porch and handicap ramp. The town is not required to put such jobs out to bid. Two other local contractors were not interested in the job. Selectmen unanimously agreed to pay $25 an hour, with a $2,700 cap to Kenny Gibbons to mow the town's lawns.

Kenny received several compliments both from selectmen and the floor on the conditions of the roads this past winter.

On April 8, Selectmen made the following appointments: Registrar of Voters, Jim Rector; Part-time planning board member, Jen Casey; Full-time planning board member, Dennis Casco; Road commissioner, Kenny Gibbons; Transfer Station attendant, Kenny Gibbons; Building Inspector, Bob Brown; Plumbing Inspector, Virgil Conkright; Animal Control Officer, Horace Goodrum; and Librarian, Laurie Brown.

May 21 News

12 out of 19 returning Ladies Aid members rejoined at the annual business meeting. Two members rejoined but weren't present. Two members didn't rejoin, but intend to do so, and three new members joined the group!

New members are welcomed at any time and do not need to be residents.

Officers elected were: Leslie Aron, president; Carol Norman, vice president; Cindi Casco, secretary; Penny Bernier, treasurer; and Laurie Brown, deputy secretary. The ladies drew names for their secret pals, enjoyed a tea with sandwiches and desserts, featuring a "hat" cake that Leslie made. They discussed plans for upcoming events and scheduled the next meeting for Thursday at 1 p.m. at their building.

Apparently the Citizen office didn't receive my faxed column for last week... may be because I actually sent it the day before the deadline, or maybe because for once, I typed it and they didn't recognize it. For whatever reason, I hope they'll print it and this column this week.

The spaghetti supper for Charlie LaVallee, on June 6, will feature homemade sauce and meatballs, tossed salad, Italian bread, and luscious desserts. Adults, $7 and Kids, $5.

The next selectmen meeting will be June 10 at 7 p.m.

The next planning board meeting will be May 29 at the town office.

Jim and Wilma Rector took friends up on their invitation to join them in St. Maarten for a week. They enjoyed wonderfully warm weather, averaging 87, and paraglided up to 800 feet! When they got home Saturday night, the power failure had kicked off their heater and the temperatures both inside and outside were not quite as warm and cozy! Welcome home! Glad you enjoyed your vacation.

As part of the events that'll happen on July 18, hosted by the Ladies Aid Association, the Stateline Snowmobile Club, and friends of the Upton School, we'd like info on when Upton's oldest buildings (public and private) were built and by whom. Added information and pictures would be a wonderful bonus. Please mail any information you have to the Ladies Aid, 23 Mill Hill, Upton, ME 04261, or contact a member, or come join us at a meeting. Thanks.

If you were a student or teacher at the Upton School, or are a descendent or friend of one who did and have any interesting tidbits, pictures, or memories to share, please call Melanie Farmer at 899-9995 or e-mail her at melanief@megalink.net.

Have a wonderful week. Selah.

Gilead

by Lin Chapman
The weekend was cold and rainy. At least the rain held off until Saturday night and gave the members of the Gilead Historical Society a chance to work on the corner lot.

My brother, Steve McLain was on hand Saturday to help with the lot clean up.

On Friday, May 15, Marina McLain, who is the daughter of Stephen and "Peachy" McLain, attended a graduation ceremony marking her promotion from 8th grade to the 9th grade. Her class attends the Denbigh Baptist Christian School, Newport News, Va. Marina is the granddaughter of Steve and Lise McLain.

Gilead Historical Society

There were eight people who showed up for the Friends and Family Day (June 20) planning meeting. Five of the members of the GHS (Hugh and Lin Chapman, Steve McLain, Andre and Eileen Dupont) were able to stay and help with the clean up of the corner lot to get ready for the moving of the school house. There were also four great volunteers who showed up to lend a hand. Alfred Leighton came with his bucket loader again and helped move some of the leftover debris and he brought along a helper, Dylan Gordon. The bucket loader made the work a lot easier and many thanks to Alfred, Richard and Sue Saunders, who were representing the Fire Department and just being good neighbors, stopped by to help. Richard and Steve loaded their pickups and hauled a lot of items to the transfer station.

Planning Board

The June Planning Board meeting will be held on June 11 instead of June 4 as previously scheduled.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

Gardner Roberts Memorial Library Trustees and Officers met on Wednesday, May 13, at the library. The group accepted revisions to the by-laws and named Gail Parent to fill a vacancy of the trustees. The resignation of Trustee Maura Rodway was accepted with regret and the secretary was asked to send a letter of thanks for the assistance she provided.

The Library is now open on Wednesdays from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. The summer schedule starting June 3 will add Thursday evenings from 5 to 8 p.m. and Saturday mornings from 9 a.m. until noon. Volunteers will serve as expanded hours librarians along with Librarian Peggy Susbury.

Fundraisers planned for the summer include a plant sale starting soon on the porch along with the library bake sale; there will be a yard sale during the summer and raffle tickets for the picture quilt made by Dottie Adams are presently on sale at the library and from library officers and trustees. There are also plans for a "Pampered Chef Party" in June. Looking forward to autumn there will be a fall fest similar to last year. Younger folks may be interested in craft days during the summer. The Gardner Roberts Memorial Library Annual Meeting will be June 17 at 6 p.m. at the library.

Librarian Peggy Susbury announced that a junior librarian has stepped in to help on Wednesday afternoons. Elementary school student Amber Souve says the library is a pleasant place to be and she enjoys helping.

Hanover voters will be asked to approve the operating budget of $34,128,324 for Western Foothills Regional School Unit 10 along with the 11 other participating towns at a town-meeting-style meeting at Dirigo High School on June 4. That vote will be followed by a referendum vote on June 9 at the Hanover Town Office for Hanover voters. A public informational meeting for towns in the Hanover area will be in the lower meeting room at Mexico Town Hall on June 3 starting at 6 p.m.

The Hanover swim raft has been placed in Howard Pond for the summer season. One old fellow said that it may look like summer but it is still too darn cold to go swimming in Howard Pond.

The bear continues local visits, the latest reports coming from Howard Pond residents. Coyotes howling during the nighttime hours have caused sleep deprivation for some.

During recent conversations with good ole Jim Ray he reports that he is feeling better and Judy is making him stay on his diet.

David Wainwright remains hospitalized at Central Maine Medical Center in Lewiston. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Dick Eaton of Kennebunkport and owner of Often-In along South Shore Road at Howard Pond passed away during the winter following a period of ill health. Eaton's uncle, Parker Russell, previously owned Often-In and he purchased it with his wife Betty after Mr. Russell's death. Betty Eaton passed away several years ago. The Eatons' son, Jeff, is taking care of the cottage.

Hanover taxpayers are reminded that property taxes are due by June 30. The town will accept partial payments and will also accept Master Card and Visa credit/debit cards. Nobody wants to get their name in the "book."

Locke Mills

by Lorraine Larson

I finally get a working computer and get back on line and now I don't have much in the way of news. That figures!

I could give you a long list of trials and tribulations that people are going through but it seems we all have them, so I am sure you don't need more to add to the list you have. It just seems as if more and more stuff happens all the time. Probably it always did. I just have become more aware of it. It also might help to get some warmer and brighter weather but that is beyond anyone's control.

That said, by the time you read this Al Lake should be back from visiting his son, Brent, and family in Texas. Crystal is staying until the 28th, as she says that a week is not long enough with her children and grandchildren. The little ones grow by leaps and bounds when you don't get to see them much. They do when you see them a lot, too, it just isn't as noticeable.

I am still battling my ear problem. When one's tubes get blocked there isn't much you can do except use nose drops and wait. Of course you can only use the drops three days in a row and then you have to get off them for two days. The ears just get to feeling better and then you have the two days' wait and they have time to plug up all over again. I am not a very patient patient as one can see! I want to be able to hear normally again right off!

People are busy planting flowers and other seeds right now. Gardens take a lot of work. I have tried to grow stuff here but the soil is just not very conducive to growing anything after so many years of pine needles, and I don't get much sun where I can plant. I tried planting 25 bulbs and not one of them came up. I did have a bleeding heart that tried its best but it didn't come up last year either. I do have a straggling rhododendron that nothing can kill; it looks as if it is dead all during the winter but it cheerfully opens up when the warmer weather comes, and Owen Brown gave me a foreign-sounding lilac tree that does pretty well, at least the hummingbird moths seem to like it, and lilies of the valley and some day lilies complete my flower venture. Andy planted some rose bushes but they all died the second year. It was a lot of work for little results.

We were all sorry to hear of the death of Pauline Ouellette. It was so sudden and she should have had a lot more years left. She made Debbie and Owen's, dog, Brutus, and my Chloe some cute clothes. She was very talented. She will be missed.

Guess that's all for now. Until next week you keep it happening!

Andover

by Melinda Averill

Hello Andover friends. It's hard to believe that this is memorial weekend!

The Knights of Pythias will be having a memorial service on Monday morning starting at 10 a.m. This will be held at the town common. Pastors Jane Rich and Ken Wagstaff will both be participating in the service.

Sunday, May 24, will be Baccalaureate services at the First Congregational Church. Seniors from Andover this year are Austin Buck, Deagan Conrad, Amy Farrington, Candace Hall, Devin Hughes, Abigail Jones, Katherine MacGregor, Lindsey Milligan, Whitney Mills, Brandon Nadeau, and Audienna Woods.

Celebrating a birthday this week: R.J. Cole Freeman on the 21st, and A.J. Currier on the 26th.

There will be a benefit dance tomorrow evening at the Andover Town Hall. This is a fundraiser to support Andover teen Daniel Vaughn on his trip to Italy this summer. Daniel was selected by 365 sports to the 2009 basketball team. While in Italy he will play in the 2009 shoot-out, a prestigious international tournament.

The dance will go from 7 to 10 p.m. This is a non-alcoholic family event. DJ services are being donated by Dan Richard. Refreshments will be available for purchase. The cost: adults $6 or $5 with a canned food donation, students $4 or $3 with a canned food item. Canned food donations will go to the Andover Food Pantry. Enjoy your weekend.

Greenwood City

by Wayne Hakala

Memorial Day is upon us again. Thursday I had an appointment in Togus. We saw many lilac bushes with open flowers along our journey back through Lewiston. And as I look around this rainy morning, my lilacs are far from ready to spring forward with color and a delightful nose tickler. But the Cortland apple tree is displaying is colors for all to see. Of course the ever-present dandelions are waiting for a surprise attack of Weed-Be-Gone.

May 24 at 11 a.m., Jackson-Silver Post 68 will be doing a Memorial Day service at the Newry Town Office. Then on the 25th at 9 a.m., a parade will form at the Legion Hall and march to the Greenwood Veterans Monument. A service will be presented and the parade will re-form to march to the cemetery on Route 26 for an additional service. At 11 a.m. the Post will do a service at the Middle Intervale Road in East Bethel. At 1 p.m., the Woodstock Parade will get under way.

In between the parades, there will be refreshments at the Legion Post. Also we are planning on removing the Post sign over the front door for a makeover by Norm Foster.

The Veterans' flags are being put out this week. Al Lake is leading the way and Terry Martin is assisting us with his very nimble side-by-side ATV. Ought to be a fun day. Also we are looking to make a list of all the veterans buried at these cemeteries.

East Andover

by Joan Stinson-Carney

Last weekend seems to have been the weekend to go to Massachusetts for some lucky Andover residents.

Glenna Allen enjoyed a weekend in Boston. She went with her daughter and son-in-law, Susan and William Kelleher, to see her granddaughter, Betsey Kelleher, receive her master's degree in Education from Boston University.

Honey Cronin also went to watch her granddaughter graduate from college, and a couple of my friends went to the Cape to just hang out. Am I jealous? You bet I am!

The Calvary Bible Church has a couple of events coming up. On Sunday, May 24, there will be a fellowship supper starting at 5 p.m. It's a potluck so bring a "pot." Sunday, May 31, will be Baccalaureate Sunday. This is also the start of summer hours, with the service starting at 9:30, with a brunch to follow.

Don't forget the Andover Alumni Association Banquet is this Saturday. I hope you have already sent your RSVP.

We all get heavier as we get older because there is a lot more information in our heads. So I'm not fat, I'm just really intelligent, and my head just couldn't hold any more, so it started filling up the rest of me. That's my story and I'm sticking to it. See 'ya.

Newry

by Sylvia Harrington

A falcon swooped down over the deck and just missed catching a blue jay last Saturday around 6:30 p.m.

The Grafton Notch Campground is now open. Please call Mark Wight or Mo Ginter at 824-2292 for bookings and information.

During the weekend of May 16 and 17 Polly Mahoney and Kevin Slater hosted a Wellness Weekend at their home on the Bear River Road.

Claire and Cassidy Webster still have home-grown chickens' eggs for sale at a price of $3.50 a dozen. You will find fishing gear as well as lots of snack foods and sandwiches for purchase when you stop in. Doug will also tag your turkey during this particular hunting season. As of the 16th, he has tagged 26. ATVs can be licensed at the Bear River Trading Post.

Seneca Corriveau plans to make goat cheese in the near future from the special goats she recently purchased. I hope to drive up to see them soon and will have more information as to special breed of goats she has purchased.

West Paris

by Joyce Lamb

Cold most of the time with even a frost but the last few days have produced rain which will keep us all from grass fires. The lilacs have budded enough to show their color but will they be out enough to take to the cemeteries for Memorial Day?

On Sunday, May 24, the Rev. Richard Beal will speak on "Dealing With Disasters, Large and Small." Music is by Jim Burke followed by a social coffee hour. All are welcome.

On Saturday, May 30, the annual Rhubarb Pie and White Elephant Sale will be held at the West Paris Universalist Church at 9 a.m. to noon.

On May 23 and 24 the Ring McKee American Legion Post No. 151 will hold a yard sale at Trap Corner on Route 26. It will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. both days. If anyone has good-quality items to donate call 674-2346 or 674-5143.

A Memorial Day Parade will be held on May 25 starting at 11 a.m. from the Finnish American Heritage Center. Grand marshals will be Albert Penley, Jr. and Bertha DeHaas. The parade will go to the bridge to honor those lost at sea, and march to the Wayside Cemetery for a service led by Pastor Lloyd Waterhouse and Bruce Tyner. Graves will be decorated. The parade will return to the Veteran's Memorial in the village for closing ceremonies.

Old Home Days are planned for Friday and Saturday, June 5 and 6. The Firemen's Auxiliary will have a sale there as well as the firemen will have a chicken barbecue on Saturday noon. There will also be fireworks.

It has not been warm enough for people to start getting around and going to camp. About all most of us do is get groceries every week or two. Beryl Bonney and I did run a few errands in Norway and Oxford. We did get to Lewiston to look at rugs, for my den needs a new 9x12 that will fit in the center and will butt up to large tiers of bookcases on three walls. I do not have the courage to move them all.

Do call if you have any news. Graduation is near. If you have children or grandchildren graduating we would like to know about it.

Muffin has a new place to nap. The rocking footstool fascinates her and she enjoys the movement.

Judith Grover Tent 17 DUVCW met at the Grange Hall on Monday evening with 11 members present. General Orders from Department President Helvi Cary was read. Marybeth Hoover was installed as Council Member No. 1 and Color Bearer No. 3 and Bessie House was installed as historian. The Memorial Day program was discussed. Rep. Jarrod Crockett will be the speaker. The program starts at 1 p.m. on Monday, May 25, at the Honor Roll by the library.

A report was given by President Elsie Bonney about the enlarging of the honor roll. An estimate of about $12,000 has been given for the stone-work, granite and printing the names — this includes both wings. Anyone wishing to donate to this project may do so at the Memorial Day program or contact President Elsie Bonney or a member.

Convention for Department DUVCW is at Waterville on June 26 starting with granddaughters' breakfast at 7:30. National Convention will be held in August, also in Maine this year. Twenty-seven calls were reported and mystery package went to Elena Noyes. Next meeting will be June 8. Delegate to Department Convention is Vicky Myers and alternate is Elena Noyes.

Services at the Baptist Church are Sunday school at 9:15 a.m., morning worship at 10:30 a.m., evening service at 6 p.m. Wednesday evening at 6:30 is prayer meeting, and Friday at 6:30 p.m. is youth group. Sunday, May 24 at 6 p.m., Dr. Al Reichman from Chosen People Ministries will be at this service. Sunday, May 31 is potluck dinner following the morning service and afternoon service, no evening service.

Ken and Alice Hoyt attended a play at Baxter School in Falmouth on Friday. Granddaughter Maggie Hoyt returned home with them to her dad's, Mr. and Mrs. James Hoyt, for the weekend.

On Mother's Day all the family except Joseph Hoyt, who is still in Costa Rica, were at the home of Ken and Alice Hoyt for dinner.

The Memorial Day Program and Parade will be held on Monday, May 25, at 1 p.m. by the Honor Roll on Main Street. Rep. Jarrod Crockett will be the speaker, music by the Mahosuc Music Makers, essay by fourth-grader from W.E.S., Gen. Logan's and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, Parade to the cemetery. All welcome to attend.

The Woodstock Alumni Banquet will be held at the American Legion Hall, Locke Mills, on June 13 at 5:30 p.m. Price is $10 for all but special guests, the classes of 1939, 1949, 1959 and Telstar seniors from Woodstock and Greenwood.

If anyone knows any veterans buried in the cemeteries in Woodstock-Bryant Pond area that need a flag, please let Elsie Bonney know (875-3800).

The Mother's Day Banquet at Crosstone Restaurant was a very nice occasion. Thirty-three attended, a great meal, a very nice speaker, Mrs. Melanie Ness, and lots of visiting. Thanks to Elizabeth Hoover and Becky Hodgkins for planning it and the men for serving and Queda Billings, Marybeth Hoover and JoAnn Crockett for singing.

Historical Society At the May meeting of the Historical Society the video, "Maine's Golden School Days 1890 to 1930," was shown. Travel in those days was on foot to a one-room school house. Restrooms were privies. There was a school stove and a bell called the kids to line up. There were doors for the girls and one for the boys. There was a Bible reading and Flag salute. Reading, Writing and Arithmetic were the basics. Music and penmanship were special classes. Recess and exercises were also staples. Teachers were paid little and discipline could be had.

Oliver Risko gave the society some pictures of Locke Mills.

The June meeting will begin with a pizza party at 6 p.m.

The museum will also be open from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday afternoons starting in June. Society members will act as guides for visitors throughout the summer. They do hope you will stop in. The museum offers art, furniture, glass, china, tools, vintage clothing, quilts old photos, toys, jewelry, posters, musical instruments and books for you to enjoy along with local artifacts.

Annela Burnham and Larry Billings are saving items from papers for the Historical Society.

Albany

Greetings and hello from Albany Township. The weather is slowly but surely becoming more and more spring like. The trees are covered with pale-green buds, early spring flowers such as tulips, daffodils and crocuses are blooming, and the grass on lawns is growing green and strong.

Dana and I were downtown and we've noticed all the yard sale signs either at the IGA or around town in general for this coming weekend. Work and weather permit-

$1,500 Energy Tax Credit

Now is the time to replace your drafty windows and patio doors.

You can always count on Andersen Windows and patio doors to help maximize your home's comfort and minimize your energy bills. And, if you live in the north, you may qualify for up to a $1,500 credit on your federal income tax.*

Qualifications for the new tax credit are more stringent than ever. To qualify, windows and patio doors must provide high levels of energy efficiency in two categories: reduced heat loss and reduced heat gain. The measurement for heat loss is called U-Factor and the measurement for heat gain is called Solar Heat Gain Coefficient - SHGC. In both cases, the rating must be 10% better than the code for the new tax credit, which is a good reason to choose Andersen products.

Our knowledgeable sales staff will be happy to assist you in choosing the right window and patio door for your home.

*Max Andersen credit is $1,500 per year. The credit is based on the number of windows and doors installed. Please consult your tax advisor for details.

ting, we hope to hit a few of these.

It's been a bit quiet here and I'm afraid I don't have anything to put in the column. If anyone has anything they would like for me to place, just drop me a line or give a shout and let me know.

We hope that everyone will have a great Memorial Day weekend.

Best wishes for a happy and safe week. God Bless and Keep.

by Rockie Graham
Here it is past the middle of May and we are having frost after frost. Monday was so cold that Tasha didn't even want to go out. This a.m. it was only 20 when I got up. BRR! I swear April was warmer than May. This too shall pass. It is scheduled to get warmer on Thursday; that would be today! We are ready and waiting.

By the time you read this, David will have returned from his scooter trip to Massachusetts. He felt like a popsicle when he arrived, hopefully he will come home on a warmer day. Still an awfully long trip for the scooter!

This week presents all kinds of fun on the holiday weekend. This is the time camp owners traditionally arrive to open their camps. It is also the weekend of the Lilac Festival at McLaughlin Gardens. It runs from Thursday to Monday. Tours and sales of perennials and lilacs will happen. FMI www.mclaughlingarden.org.

Next weekend, the 30th, is the Bethel Library Plant Sale from 9 to 10 a.m. That is my favorite, although I haven't made it in the last few years. Everyone gathers up his or her cuttings to bring in and everyone also buys lots of plants. It is a great fundraiser and everyone goes away happy.

Sunday, the 24th, is Stoneham Rescue's annual Memorial Day Breakfast, 7 to 10 a.m. Adults are only $5 and children $2.50. Come meet the new chief.

In Norway on Monday, the Memorial Day Parade will take place, weather permitting starting at 9 a.m. at the Advertiser Democrat and proceeding up Main Street and finishing at the Veteran's Memorial. Line-up begins at 8:45 a.m.

Saturday, the 23rd, is the Bethel Historical Society St. Never's Day Sale. It will be held at the Hastings Homestead, corner of Mason and Broad streets. There is always a wide variety of treasures. FMI call 824-2908.

Look for many yard sales and watch a parade or too. Come support our troops and veterans by taking in a celebration or two!

That is all for this week. Have a great Memorial Day weekend.

The 50th anniversary of Eva Bean's publication of her book, "East Bethel Road," in 1959 was officially commemorated with a lecture by Society Director Stanley R. Howe on Thursday evening, May 14, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House.

In discussing this publication, Howe provided a brief biography of Miss Bean, who also was one of the key founders of the society in 1966.

Born in East Bethel in 1895, she attended local schools, graduated from Gould Academy in 1913, Colby College in 1917, and received her R.N. from Presbyterian Hospital in New York in 1922. Following her nursing training, she went to Paris, France, where she taught nursing. Later returning to Maine, she settled in Portland, where she was supervisor of nurses at Maine General Hospital. Her next position was a private nurse and governess for the J.M. Andrews family in Akron, Ohio, owners of the Quaker Oats Company. Due to the onset of rheumatoid arthritis in the 1930s, she was forced to retire from regular employment in 1934. A disability insurance allowed her to devote the remainder of her life to historical research and writing.

As stated in the preface of "East Bethel Road," she wrote the book to provide a fence for one of Bethel's oldest burial grounds, Bartlett Cemetery, not far from where she grew up in East Bethel. It was a genuine "labor of love" and a model local history, which was published by Citizen Printers of Bethel, then owned by Carl Brown and his sons. The book was designed to be a sequel to Dr. William B. Lapham's History of Bethel, published in 1891.

Miss Bean included a history of each house site, extensive family genealogy, information on Gould Academy, cemetery records, veterans' lists, and a section titled "Odds and Ends." There were 350 copies printed and it took nearly ten years to sell them.

Miss Bean died in sleep on Sept. 18, 1969, so she did not live long enough to see how valuable her book became.

By the late 1970s, offers of $500 or more for a copy were

TELSTAR'S FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

Telstar's Chapter of FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America) participated in the Maine State Leadership Conference in South Portland this spring. A record number of 42 students attended the event, which included such activities as business related testing, business workshops, motivational speakers, leadership and spirit activities. They took home 14 awards including three Chapter awards: "Market Share Award," which is the largest percentage of students in FBLA compared with school enrollment; "Largest Chapter Award," for having the largest FBLA chapter in the state of Maine. Considering Telstar does not have a business program, this is quite a feather in Telstar's hat. "The Spirit Stick Award" which is given to the chapter with the most points accumulated throughout the conference. The stick is displayed at Telstar for the year and returned at the next Leadership Conference. Many students earned individual awards for business and leadership skills: first place Brian Annis, Networking Concepts; first place Josh Bellinger, Intro to Technology Concepts, first place Brian Annis, Technology Concepts, first place Jen Aldrich, Public Speaking 2; second place Lauretta Thurston, Impromptu Speaking; second place Elek Pew, Intro to Technology Concepts; second place Lisa Piccirillo, Personal Finance; third place Megan Bonny, Management Information Systems; third place Frankie Del Duca, Sports Management; third place Jean Lawrence, Intro to Parliamentary Procedures; third place Megan Bonny, Chapter Activity Display. offers of $500 or more for a copy were common, a rarity for a book so recently issued. Responding to this situation, the society obtained the transfer of the copyright from Miss Bean's heirs and in 1984 reprinted the entire original volume, but added another 300 pages of updated information to a second edition. A colorful dust jacket of a ca. 1880 watercolor painting of Middle Intervale was added to assist in the marketing of this edition, which was compiled by Agnes Haines, Mildred Jackson, Nancy Mercer and Stan Howe.

In his remarks, Howe briefly traced the history of historical writing in the United States from the Puritans to the rise of the gentleman historian, who was so essential in the early efforts to compile local and regional history, before the founding of the professional organizations such as the American Historical Association (founded in 1884), the Organization of the American Historians (whose origins go back to the founding of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association in 1907) and the American Association for State and Local History (founded in 1940).

As a special observance of this 50th anniversary, the society is currently selling its remaining copies of the book at a 50 percent discount from its original price. Those wishing to order a copy should go to the society's website at www.bethelhistorical.org.

With over 1,450 members, the Bethel Historical Society, founded in 1966, is western Maine's largest and most comprehensive full-time historical agency, dedicated to collecting, preserving, and interpreting the regional past for present and future generations.

For over 40 years, the society's activities have included lectures, exhibits, special events, heritage festivals, workshops, conferences, school and educational programs, and publications. In 1974, the society acquired the former Broad Street residence of Dr. Moses Mason.

Area contractors and other volunteers gave their time Saturday to make improvements at Telstar. Inset, Lindsay Merrill, Shelley Douglass and Brittany Douglass paint picnic tables. Bottom far left, Jimmy Merrill loads old roofing from a dugout. Tim O'Connor and Josh Kranh are on the roof. Western Foothills
Land Trust

When the Western Foothills Land Trust began its fundraising campaign for Roberts Farm Preserve in July of 2007, Bob and Mary Van Nest brought an old milk bottle painted with Roberts Farm Norway, Maine, to the office. Bob and Mary, founders of the Trust (Bob is our current president) used to keep a dairy cow and had used the old bottle to separate cream. WFLT chose to use the bottle for fundraising; a photo of the bottle has been on the land trust's website since 2007 and has been filling with metaphoric funds ever since.

Last week the cream reached into the head of the bottle as the Trust successfully paid off its loan on the initial $310,000 purchase. Remaining to be raised is the $40,000 due in June for the adjoining 10.5-acre parcel that the Technical Park Development Corporation held back.

The Trust would like to thank everyone in the local,

Maine, and New England community who helped with the effort to purchase and protect the former dairy farm parcel overlooking Lake Penesseewassee. By next winter, the proposed trails on site will be ready for x-c skiing and snowshoeing.

Vernal Pool?

Wetlands scientist Don Murphy of Bethel has been contracted by the Western Foothills Land Trust to determine if the old farm pond on Roberts Farm Preserve has the recognized attributes of a vernal pool. Don was invited to walk around the pond with trail designer Mike Cooper and Trust trail committee members on April 7. At that time activity was limited to a pair of mallard ducks as 98 percent of the pond surface was still frozen. As the farm pond does not have an inlet, i.e. a source for the most common predator species, Don thinks that there is a good chance that he will find the indicator species for vernal pools as the season progresses: wood frogs, Blue-spotted Salamanders, Spotted Salamanders, and Fairy Shrimp.

A brief visit by members of the trails committee one week later, on April 15, provided an open pond and easily identifiable wood frogs. Salamanders should be migrating to vernal pools in this area starting with this week's predicted rains.

Don will be monitoring the site for the Trust throughout May. In order to stay well clear of the pond, the trails committee has decided to shift the start location of the Preserve's universally accessible trail and to adjust a short section of the intermediate trail.

Incorporating suggestions from Don, the committee is discussing adding a short universally accessible trail to a viewing point near the pond.

Don has offered to present a Vernal Pool Basics program for the community at the farm pond on Roberts Farm Preserve, Thursday May 21, 5 to 6:30 pm, rain or shine. Parking available off Roberts Road, Norway. There are no trails yet, dress for a woodlands walk. Additional information: wflt@megalink.net.

What do windmills, energy-star building, trash to treasure, solar panels, fuel cells, hybrid cars and recycling have in common? All are inspirations for Bethel's avid and creative float builders getting ready for the 2009 Mollyockett Day Parade, July 18, 2009. This year's theme is "Get Your Green On!"

Float builders may gear their creations toward anything having to do with environmental awareness and making the earth's environment healthy and sustainable. That could also include sustainable agriculture, locally grown foods, alternative power generation and much more.

Organizers are encouraging people to let their imaginations go wild with creative ideas while they formulate designs that will be judged for 1st, 2nd and 3rd place trophies. Those interested in participating must obtain a participation form and liability ity waiver from event sponsor, the Mahoosuc Arts Council.

Organizers say plans for the annual festival are well underway with over 50 booths registered to exhibit and vend on the historic Bethel Common, with a variety of performances at the gazebo. Booths will represent community groups, a variety of food vendors and artists/crafters including: iron and wood work; handmade furniture, jewelry, paintings, handmade clothing and much more. Entertainment will offer a mix of the old and new, including the Bethel Community Band.

The 6th annual ARTirondak Auction — a major fundraising event for the Council held at the gazebo on Mollyockett Day — will feature 15 adult chairs and two child chairs, made by local furniture maker Reggie Brown, and hand-painted with original, one-of-a-kind designs by western Maine artists.

4-H Youth Development is a program of the University of Maine in Orono. In April of 2008 the University of Maine 4-H Camp and Learning Center at Bryant Pond opened its doors to Youth Outdoor Environmental Education.

It has been just over a year since our merger and we have increased our youth educational programming to serve over 2,500 youth. Young people today need to be outdoors, explore, play and be physically active.

Today, we are paying more attention to our children's health and are becoming a society concerned with eating healthy and increasing our physical activity, and becoming ing more sustainable. Our new University Learning Center is placing focus on youth outdoor education, self-reliance, and sustainability education.

You may have read recently that Bryant Pond 4-H received funding to support the expansion of our leadership and service learning programs for teens, through CSREES; "Children Youth Families at Risk" funding.

This is a huge advantage for local schools and youth to partner with the 4-H Bryant Pond Learning Center in outdoor natural resource education and leadership.

The Bryant Pond Learning Center is partnering with local schools, after school programs and nonprofits. Our only weakness is that the Bryant Pond facility remains seasonal until a year-around building can house classrooms and lodging.

The Bolger Foundation of Ridgewood, N.J., has given Bryant Pond 4-H a $200,000 challenge gift for the first building.

The Board of Directors and staff have been working hard to meet this goal and we need your help. To date we have raised almost half the funds and we have until November of 2009 to raise the match.

We need to match this donation and expand educational support our local children. If you are willing to help, please contact Susan Jennings at (800) 287-1482 or 743-6829.

Enrichment opportunities for the children in SAD #44

From the Director

The MKA summer staff is making final preparations for Summer Adventure 2009. Our brochure is ready and available and will be going home to all the elementary students of SAD #44. At CPS we have already started preparing and planting our summer garden! I had the opportunity to speak to the parents of incoming Kindergarten students to invite their children to participate in our summer program. It is a nice way for students to meet new friends and find their way around Crescent Park School before the new school year begins. The summer dates are Monday- Friday - June 22 - August 14th. We are also preparing for a 5 week Telstar Middle School program beginning on July 6th and ending on August 6th. I would also urge students to check out the programs at the Bryant Pond 4-H camp - MKA has many scholarship opportunities for SAD #44 students at the camp. As we close out another successful school year, I would like to thank all the students and their families who participated in our many programs at all the school sites. The MKA Board of Directors has scheduled its Annual Meeting on May 28, 2009 at 4:30 PM - at Crescent Park School.

- Julie Hart,
Director

The Telstar Leadership Committee went with 6 students to Portland Friday, April 17th and spent the night at the Clarion Hotel. They had supper at Pizza Hut and enjoyed swimming in the pool. The next morning, they left Portland on the Amtrak Downeaster at 6 a.m. for a full day of activities in Boston with visits to the New England Aquarium, lunch and shopping at Quincy Market, The Boston Museum of Science, and Omni Theater. Thanks to volunteers: Susan Jennings, Cathy Godwin, Sue Hicks, Lorie White, TMS Students Kristi and Karen White, TMS Students Ali Corey, Vanessa Godwin, Anna Tyrian, and Echo Pelc, and CPS Student Becca Howard. Listings in The Citizen's weekly Community Calendar are compiled from a wide variety of sources. While we do our utmost to ensure the reliability of the information presented here, we recognize that when dealing with such a large volume of material, some inaccuracies will occasionally creep in. And in other cases, a sponsoring organization's plans may change between the time The Citizen is printed and the event is held.

From REACH

REACH (Rape Education and Crisis Hotline) is sponsoring a series of workshops facilitated by Beth McIntyre, healing arts coach and survivor advocate. "Soul Force — the coming together of beautiful souls to inspire, empower, grow and share together" will make art available in different forms, in a safe, comfortable place where participants can explore their feelings and share their voices.

Beth is offering this series of workshops to survivors of sexual assault and domestic violence. The workshops are free, and will meet on the second and fourth Wednesdays of the month from 1 to 3 p.m., starting on May 27, at the REACH office in South Paris. Individual time will also be available outside of the group workshop. Participants do not have to attend every workshop.

Following is a list and brief descriptions of workshop topics.

Love Your Dance of Life — Intro to body movement, how to move and feel freely from within. Simple freestyle dance exercises created from the senses of hearing and feeling.

The Glow of the Moon Invites Women's Hearts to Play — Intro to moon phases and you. Learn facts about the moon, cultures and how they use rituals during moon phases, including women's spirituality; we will also create our own moon calendar.

Recycling Crafts Project — Stimulate creativity in our everyday lives observing what surrounds us. We will also be exploring what it means to be "Green."

Humor Me! — For the fun and lighthearted self, a discovery workshop using positive affirmations worksheets, brainteasers and games to enjoy the lighter side of life.

The Creative Brain — A discussion on the differences of the right-brain/left-brain activities, using different drawing techniques to exercise and understand these differences.

Let In Let Out Chronicles — Creative Journaling with the purpose of recognizing the importance of letting out negativity in your life, to make room to let in positive thoughts and feelings to create more happiness in your life.

ALL THE CATTLE ARE STANDING LIKE STATUES; THEY DON'T BLINK AN EYE WHEN THEY SEE ME PASS BY—Shannon Sumner's cattle graze in their Albany pasture. (Photo: M. Daniels)

Me Doll — By using many different mediums and craft items, we will create a doll of our "self" to help us remember and recognize our dreams and goals.

Personal Needs Tree — Using clay and picture-frames to create our own "tree of life" with emphasis on self-care, self-love and self-preservation, with encouragement to write during the creative process and share our stories and art.

Empowering Charm Bracelets — With powerful intention, and conscious choice to find what is good in your life, what works, inspires, we'll create bracelets that can be worn as a symbol to remind us that happiness and inner peace can be ours to keep.

Creative Drama — Fun with theater games (dramatic activities). This will be a great way to develop imagination and confidence with improvisation.

Recipe for Dreams — To stimulate our creative writing abilities, we'll create our own recipe for our own personal dreams. When finished with our recipe, we'll create our own page in a scrapbook for our "Dream Recipe Cookbook."

Gratitude Candle — Using a variety of mediums, we will create a gratitude candleholder for ourselves, to remind us to enjoy life, dream, pray, wish or feel gratitude and give thanks.

Visual Imagery and Designing Eye Masks — While we decorate our own fabric eye masks, we will discuss different practices of meditation, from simple everyday breathing to guided imagery; vision journeys will be shared for the experience of a relaxation tool. The eye masks will be soft so that we may use them any time we need to give our eyes and minds rest, even if for a few minutes.

Take A Walk In My Shoes! — Through decorating our shoes, we may explore our own journeys through creative expression. Where we have traveled has played a huge role in who we are today. To recognize the courage and strength we, as survivors, have endured can be empowering to help us continue to grow and learn.

For more information or to register, please call REACH, 743-9777.

REACH has been serving the communities of Oxford County and the towns of Bridgton and Harrison since 1981.

BEFORE BUYING A HOME!

Where do you start when you are ready to buy a home? Before you begin looking for a home, you have to make some decisions. You need to decide what is important to you when purchasing your home. Before starting out on your home search it is a good idea to sit down and develop a list of what is important and what would you like in your new home. Your list could include schools, neighborhood, amenities, number of bedrooms, number of baths, a basement, a separate dining room, 2-story family room or foyer, one level ranch plan, master bedroom on the main level, special financing, seller willing to cover closing costs and the list goes on and on.

An experienced buyer real estate agent can help you through the process. There is no such thing as a perfect house, therefore once you have developed your list you should begin to prioritize it. You can prioritize into, "must have", "should have" and "would be nice to have". By having a clear understanding what you want in your new home, and the priority of those items, you will be in a much better position to decide whether you want to put an offer on a house you see and like. It is also a good idea to consider whether you want to purchase a new or pre-owned home.

Obituaries

SARAH ALICE STEVENS

Sarah Alice Stevens passed away May 11, 2009 at the Goshen Memorial Hospice House in Scarborough after a short illness.

She was born Dec. 23, 1909 to Matilda and Thomas Laird in Wentworth Location, N.H. The family lived several years in Upton and Grafton finally settling in Newry where she grew up with her mother and stepfather, Ola Olson.

Except for her public service and church work, Sarah was totally dedicated to the happiness and well being of her family, which was the center of her life. She was always there for everyone, listening, caring and encouraging. No matter what the problem, Sarah remained calm and strong — the family "rock." She will be sorely missed but will live on in our hearts.

Sarah loved Bethel and its people. She often was involved in several projects at once working tirelessly wherever needed. She took an active part in the Mollycoddett celebrations and served one year as chairman. She has been recognized for her achievements by many local organizations, including the State of Maine Volunteer Recognition Award, Senior Citizen Award, Western Area Agency on Aging Appreciation Award and was chosen as a candidate for the Jefferson Award for outstanding service to the Community. She received the Bethel Historical Volunteer Award and was an honorary member.

Sarah was one of the two remaining women who helped found the first senior citizen group in Bethel. For 18 years she enjoyed running and serving weekly meals to the seniors retiring at the age of 80 due to her husband Randal's poor health. As the oldest citizen in Bethel, she proudly received the Boston Post Cane in 2008.

Sarah was a member of the Bethel Methodist Church, which was very dear to her, serving on many committees in both the church and guild. Sarah could always be found at the food table at the church summer gift shop and at the coffee table every Sunday morning. It was well known that if you wanted help with anything you called Sarah.

She enjoyed her birds, especially as she became more housebound. They would come to her kitchen window and wait for her to feed them. Many different birds feasted there over the years. Some were rare to this area and just passing through but all were welcome even the squirrels and chipmunks.

Sending cards was a hobby to Sarah. Wherever she traveled, she had to take her cards and stamps so she could send a cheery note to someone who was sick or celebrating a birthday. She often sent cards to people she hardly knew if they needed a kind word.

Every Saturday night a "Happy Hour" was held at Sarah's house for the Stevens family, a tradition that had been carried on from the years when Richard and Hulda Stevens were alive and held in their home. It was a special time for each of them to gather together and "catch up." It is a tradition that will not fade away.

As her health declined her spirit never wavered. She never once complained about her health or inability to do the things she had always loved to do. She found something to be thankful for every day and was content with what she had. In her own words, "I am a woman of few wants!"

With the help of her daughters and their families, friends and neighbors, Sarah was able to live independently in her own home till she was 96. At that time she went to live in South Portland with her daughter, Marilyn and Charles. Even though she suffered from dementia, Sarah enjoyed activities with the South Portland Senior Citizens as well as daily outings with her family. There was nothing she enjoyed more than a good laugh.

She is survived by her two daughters, Barbara Sweetser of Bethel and Marilyn King and her husband Charles of South Portland; two stepdaughters, Catherine Johnson and husband Albert of Bailey Island and Mary McLean and husband Arnold of Lewiston; one sister, Gina Haggett of Shrewsbury, Mass.; 16 grandchildren; 39 great-grandchildren; 15 great-great-grandchildren; and many nieces and nephews.

Sarah was predeceased by her husband Randal; two grandsons, Kim Parker and Ronald Johnson; two sisters, Annie Olson and Bertha Cummings; three brothers, Ole Olson, Haakon Olson and Theodore Olson; two sons-in-law, Harvey Sweetser and Guy Parker Jr.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Bethel United Methodist Church, Main Street, Bethel, ME 04217 or the Middle Intervale Cemetery Association, c/o Pat Carter, 825 Intervale Road, Bethel, ME 04217.

A memorial service will be held at the Bethel United Methodist Church on Friday, May 22 at 11 a.m. Online condolences may be left for the family at www.andrewsgreenleaf.com.
